individual portfolio companies each perform in turn, as well as the varying underlying drivers for each portfolio company's growth and the likelihood of achieving a trade sale of a business invested in or its stock market floatation. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not consider the situation where we are not able to pay you. That said, since we do not hold any investor monies the Custodian is ultimately responsible for cash retuned after potential positive capital appreciation and possible exit opportunities. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but do not include potential underwritten portfolio company fees. The figures do not consider your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

What happens if SuperSeed Ventures LLP is unable to pay out?

The Manager does not hold your invested monies, which are held by the Custodian of the Fund, Mainspring Nominees Limited (or whichever company may subsequently become Custodian to the Fund at a later date). However, income derived from the value of shares is dependent on the performance of the underlying investments and can fluctuate. Investors could lose all or part of their investment.

What are the costs?

The amounts shown here are the cumulative cost to you the investor (not the investee companies which are outlined in more below). The figures assume you invest £10,000. Investments of over £50k are subject to lower Entry and Management % fees as outlined below. The figures are estimates and may change in the future. They do not consider any costs arising from investors underwriting portfolio company annual costs.

How long should I hold it, and can I take money out early? The product has no defined minimum period while at the same time the decision to withdraw monies is also redundant since

The product has no defined minimum period while at the same time the decision to withdraw monies is also redundant since non-tax relief related cash flows back are entirely subject to the performance of the companies invested in by the Fund. You should be prepared to wait at least 5 years to receive any realisation of the investment, while cash flow (beyond those potentially attainable through EIS income tax relief) is expected to occur across a 5-8-year period.

How can I complain?

The Fund Manager has established procedures in accordance with the FCA Rules for consideration for complaints. Details of these procedures are available on request by writing to:
